THREE AWAIT TRIALS IN MURDERS OF MRS. RISSIE DAY, BEN ADKINS

Circuit Court Will Be Convened Here
Monday, May 11th

Two murder cases are set for trial during the May term of Morgan circuit court which will be convened in West Liberty next Monday by Circuit Judge W. Major Gardner.

A fairly large docket awaits the court and a long term is in prospect in view of the fact the sessions will be interrupted by a primary election and Memorial Day holidays.

The murder charge against Samuel D. Owens for the killing of Ben Adkins, a neighbor in the Gordon Ford section, is set for trial Wednesday, May 19. First trial of the case resulted in a hung jury last October, and the case was continued at the February term.

Trials of Earl Ray Perkins, 20, and Leslie Hibbens, 19, charged with murder, rape and armed robbery in the beating death of Mrs. Rissie Steele Day, 75-year-old widow of Ollie C. Day at her country home near West Liberty on Jan. 17, are set for June 1. The two were indicted by the February grand jury and were ordered held in jail without bail.

Perkins is being held in jail at Winchester, and Hibbens is being held in jail in West Liberty. The court appointed Atty. Paul Blair of Morehead to represent Perkins along with the Legal Services representative.

Her lively and witty comments and remarks kept watchers enthralled. The spinning wheel, which belongs to Mrs. Shaver, was handmade in Morgan County 100 years ago.

Change Of Venue Hearing Friday

Judge W. Major Gardner will hear arguments Friday at 9:30 a.m. here for a change of venue in the cases against Earl Ray Perkins, charged with robbery, rape and murder in the fatal beating of Mrs. Rissie Steele Day at her country home near West Liberty last January, Attorneys for Perkins filed motion for the change of venue some weeks ago.

COMBS HITS FORD IN THREE-COUNTY CAMPTON RALLY

Bert Combs brought his gubernatorial campaign to this area Monday evening (May 10) and predicted victory in the upcoming Democratic Primary as well as the General Election in November. The former Governor spoke to hundreds of enthusiastic supporters at a Combs-Carroll campaign dinner held in Camp-ton at the Wolfe County High School. Julian Carroll of Paducah, Democratic candidate for the nomination for Lt. Governor, is Combs running mate.

Most of the people attending this rally came from Wolfe, Powell, Magoffin, Montgomery and Morgan Counties.

Combs said, "my opponent, Lt. Governor Wendell Ford is guilty of raising false issues in the gubernatorial campaign." Combs said that Ford's claims regarding taxes "are just not (Continued on page two)

FORD ADDRESSES CAMPAIGN RALLY IN WEST LIBERTY

Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford brought his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination to West Liberty Wednesday morning, addressing a crowd of around 100 at the courthouse and visiting with people on the streets.

Ford, who lambasted his opponent, Former Gov. Bert Combs, in a 30-minute talk in the circuit court room, was introduced by John Oldfield, Jr. of Ezel, who also introduced local candidates and Ford leaders from other counties.

Ford also pledged that if elected governor, "I'll see to it that U. S. 460 will be fixed so that there will be no more flooding" a reference to the area between West Liberty and Greer which is frequently flooded by Little Caney Creek.

He pledged to build more access roads throughout the (Continued on page five)

GOP HOPEFULS TOM EMBERTON, KEN HARPER VISITORS AT FESTIVAL

Among the many visitors in West Liberty last weekend for the Dogwood Festival were Republican gubernatorial candidate Tom Emberton and Secretary of State Ken Harper, GOP candidate for a full four-year term in that office.

Emberton was guest of honor at a luncheon Saturday afternoon sponsored by the Morgan County Republican Executive Committee at Don's Restaurant.

County Party Chairman Boyd

introduced the 38-year-old gubernatorial hopeful to the more than 50 Morgan County party members and visitors who attended.

Mr. Blair also introduced

Lawrence Hall of Magoffin County who is seeking the Republican nomination for State Senator in this district.

Emberton, who arrived in West Liberty at 11 a.m. remained until 4 p.m. during which time he visited the Dogwood Festival displays and toured the town's business section meeting and talking with citizens.

Secretary of State Harper arrived in West Liberty Friday morning and spent the day greeting citizens and visitors at the festival. After spending the night at Stamper's Motel, he left for another speaking engagement Saturday morning.

Lack of Space, Traffic Were Problems

One of the biggest drawbacks was the lack of space in the lanes building to adequately display the vast array of items for sale.

Original plans were to erect spacious booths on Main Street and to restrict the area to pedestrian travel only. But rain precluded this and Frederick and May Lumber and Supply Co., owners of the empty lanes building, graciously donated its use for the event and supplied lumber to erect the booths.

Another major drawback was the traffic problem at the lanes building. State and local police were called in to direct traffic which at times was backed up as far north on KY-7 as Dr. Spencer's Clinic and as far south as the intersection of Main and Prestonsburg Streets.

West Liberty had city bus service Saturday, the first time in history. Due to the traffic problem at the former bowling lanes building where crafts were displayed, buses were pressed into service to ferry visitors who parked their cars in town to and from the lanes building. Buses were lent by the West Liberty Christian Church and the local OEO office. Rain necessitated taking the festival indoors.

Weekend Downpour Fails To Wash Out Dogwood Festival

Fest Was A Success;
Planners Pleased
With Large Turnout

It rained, and it rained, and it rained.

It started Thursday and continued almost in a continual downpour throughout West Liberty's first annual Dogwood Festival last Friday and Saturday.

But despite the rain, the muggy atmosphere, the mud, and the inconvenience, it failed to dampen the spirits of the more than 150 area craftsmen and artists who showed up with more than 3,000 handmade items, mountain craftwork of all kinds, and art work, to display and sell at the festival.

And even the most optimistic, of which there were very few after the rain started, were amazed at the huge crowd of visitors which came to the festival to look and to buy despite the rain.

An estimated 6,000 to 7,000 persons—many from neighboring states and elsewhere in Kentucky—toured the 51 indoor booths at which local artisans displayed their wares and which were hastily erected Thursday night by local Kiwanians, Project Mainstream workers, and volunteers in the former bowling lanes building after rain necessitated taking the festival indoors.

$5,500 to $6,000 Worth of Crafts Sold

Figures are not yet complete, but Mrs. Kathleen Blair and Mrs. Charleen Spencer, co-chairmen for the event, said preliminary totals show that visitors bought between $5,500 and $6,000 worth of handmade items at the festival. This does not include the money from concessions.

Planners, businessmen, and the public alike enthusiastically proclaimed the event an enormous success, considering the inclement weather. And all agree that craftsmen and patron interest was strong enough to make the festival an annual event.

Had the weather been fair, planners feel that 10,000 to 15,000 people would have thronged West Liberty during the two-day event and sales would have been even higher.

This problem was partially solved Saturday by the use of shuttle buses, lent by the West Liberty Christian Church and the local OEO office, which ferried visitors who parked in town to and from the crafts display at the lanes building.

Everyone Amazed At Quality of Crafts

Visitors and area residents alike were literally astounded at the amount and fine quality of the crafts offered. Visitors from Ohio and Indiana told festival organizers the crafts displayed at the Dogwood Festival excelled in quantity and quality any they had ever seen. Many local residents said they never dreamed their home county contained so many talented people.

Betty Morton of Hazard, Arts and Crafts Area Supervisor for the State of Kentucky, attended the festival to seek items for display and sale at arts and crafts shops at parks and other locations throughout the state, and she said she found "many, many items" which she was interested in.

The art show and sale, which was supervised by Morgan High art teacher Wendell Sherman and Helen Price Stacy, drew several contributors and many quality oil paintings, water colors, and drawings. Art sales had not been tabulated at press time.

Included in the scheduled activities were an old fashion spelling bee, a country music jamboree at the courthouse Friday night, and a rock music concert and dance for teenagers at the high school Saturday night.

A knife swapping and display at the high school gym Saturday drew a number of outside traders and dealers as well as several local traders and many spectators. Harold Barber, who supervised this event, said he hopes the event can be moved downtown and expanded at the next festival.

The incessant rain all but washed out the parade scheduled for Saturday morning. Bands which had agreed to participate failed to show up because of the rain. But several members of the Kentucky Corps of Long Rifles answered their comrade, Rex Maxey's, call and showed up in buckskins with their muzzle-loading rifles to help put some bang in the parade.

Led by the Morgan County High School Band, the parade also included a number of local horsemen and their mounts, (Continued on page seven)

RAY BROWN

Your Candidate For The
KENTUCKY GENERAL ASSEMBLY
71st DISTRICT

As a candidate for the state legislature from Rowan, Elliott, and Morgan Counties, I offer these commitments to the voters to help in making their decision:

1. To support education at all levels. Elementary, secondary, and higher education are all in need of additional support.

2. To relieve those drawing old age benefits or social security benefits or disabled veterans' pensions from the sales tax and other taxes on their food and items of necessity.

3. To work for the allocation of any fund available without increasing taxes to upgrade all roads in our three counties. I will exert strong efforts to connect our three counties by adequate highways.

4. To support programs which will assist the small wage earner to raise his standard of living.

5. To vote for the best interests of our three counties regardless of who controls the Governor's Chair.

6. I have had eight years experience as Sheriff and Judge of Elliott County. I am now and have been an independent business man for the most of my adult life.

7. I can go to Frankfort as your Representative with the interest of all the people (Continued on page seven)

The former Governor said he was against an increase in the cigarette tax, an increase in the property tax and an increase in the sales tax. "I am opposed to all of these tax increases and the Lt. Governor knows it," Combs said.

Combs also charged that Lt. Governor Ford "supports basically the same KEA (Kentucky Education Association) plan as I do, but he communicated his position to the teachers by letter and tried to keep the general public from knowing about it."

Combs called Ford "the most extravagant Lt. Governor in state history." Pointing out that Ford is using state cars, equipment and personnel in his campaign for Governor, Combs said, "Ford has been running for Governor ever since he got elected Lt. Governor."

He pointed out that Ford's Lt. Governor's office budget of over $150,000 is twice as much as the budget for Lt. Governor Harry Lee Waterfield and four times that of Lt. Governor Wilson Wyatt. Combs noted that promises made by the Lt. Governor in the campaign "would cost more than $400 million for roads and bridges alone. With the present road revenue available it would take 10 years for Ford to build that many roads and bridges. He will either have to break his promises or raise taxes to keep them," Combs said.

Combs declared his opposition had done nothing for more than three years "but run for Governor" and said should he ever be elected Governor, Kentucky would have four years of indecision and chaos.

The former Governor pointed out that "my opponent is the first titular political party head in the history of this state who did not promote or accomplish a single piece of major legislation in two legislative sessions despite commanding majorities in both chambers of the General Assembly."

"The only time my opponent has shown any leadership, if you call it that, was when he broke a tie vote in the State Senate in favor of fast time," Combs said. "I'm in favor of rolling back the period of daylight saving time so we would have it only from Memorial Day to Labor Day."

Combs said that in his campaigning across Kentucky, "We find a real desire to return true Democrats to Frankfort. The people don't want a 'Nunn-Democrat' in the Governor's office."

The former Governor noted that his opponent in the May Primary had changed his views on several major issues. "Months ago I advocated a severance tax on minerals," Combs said; "my opponent had earlier said he was against a severance tax on coal. Then when he saw the growing support for a severance tax, he said he favored such a tax on coal, but not on oil and gas." Combs said that he would return a substantial portion of the tax on minerals to the counties where the mineral is produced. "My opponent would send all of his tax on coal to Frankfort," Combs added.

Combs pointed out that Ford had also changed his position on the removal of tolls from the Kentucky Turnpike, revenue sharing and a salary increase for school teachers.

Combs said that the Lt. Governor has been guilty of "having a sweetheart deal with the Governor." Combs noted, "The Governor has said to the Lt. Governor 'you do your thing and I'll do my thing.' The Governor's thing has been to help big business and big money interests and to pave the way for the election of another Republican, handpicked by the Governor. The Lt. Governor's thing has been to run for Governor for the past three years."

"I favor a revenue sharing plan for cities and counties; the creation of a Department of Environmental Protection, a reasonable salary increase for school teachers, major emphasis on the upgrading of our rural secondary and farm-to-market roads, and a financial disclosure law," Combs said. "I favor a financial disclosure law and have been advocating the passage of such a law since this campaign began. I believe the people of Kentucky are entitled to know where candidates for high public office get their income. The smear campaign was begun by our opposition in this campaign and I will be happy to open my books for public inspection."

Combs also pledged to establish a state program to assist local communities solve the sewage and solid waste disposal problems. Making reference to the fact that Wendell Ford said Combs had made mistakes during his first term as Governor, Combs said, "We all make mistakes, and one of my greatest mistakes was in letting Wendell Ford become Lt. Governor." According to Combs, Ford was a good assistant and would still be a good assistant.

Nunn Protests CBS Tobacco Telecast; Wants Equal Time

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Gov. Louie B. Nunn has complained to the head of the Columbia Broadcasting System about a segment on tobacco broadcast on CBS's "60 Minutes" program, and has asked for equal time to reply to it.

In a letter to CBS Frank Stanton, Nunn said, "I take strong exception to the biased and misleading techniques employed to malign the tobacco industry and the university research program in the March 30 segment of '60 Minutes.' "Through discriminatory editing and other prejudicial techniques, '60 Minutes' not only is guilty of an unfair and unreasonable attack on tobacco that could seriously threaten the economy of Kentucky, but it could place the university in jeopardy regarding research grant eligibility by willfully attacking the integrity of UK tobacco study programs now under way which deal with both the economics and health aspects."

THANK YOU

Words seem inadequate to express our deep appreciation to the many relatives and friends, far and near, who through concern and compassion aided us during our time of need and comforted us during our hour of sorrow, but we humbly and graciously say Thank You.

—The Rex Lacy Family
Editors Note: The following words penned by Rex Lacy were published in this time. Oft times we sing an old hymn, "Throw out the life line, someone is sinking today." On the 13th, day of May, 1968, there were thousands of life lines thrown out for me. These life lines were prayers sent up by God's people. First God had to receive these lines, then taking all these single strands, God turned them into a huge rope, extending a small thread down to me.

He promised us if we first had the faith of a mustard seed we would move mountains. So by faith believing, I reached out and grasped this life line, and was healed and made spiritually whole. With what little knowledge and wisdom that God has given me, I am saying Thank You for throwing out the life line in my behalf.

VOTE FOR JOE STACY FOR STATE SENATOR

"A WORKING SENATOR"

Committee for Joe Stacy looks at the record of Stacy and his Chief opponent. Joe Stacy has truly established himself as a "Working Senator" who stayed on the job in the Legislature and fought for his People and his District.

The official record shows that Senator Stacy:

- (a) Voted and worked for passage of Legislation which eliminated sales tax on drugs and medicine.
- (b) Sponsored the Bill that removed 5% sales tax from farm machinery.
- (c) Voted against Bill that increased automobile license from $5.00 to $12.50.
- (d) He voted against Nunn's 5% Sales Tax.
- (e) Senator Stacy stood firm against "Pressure Groups" and represented the interests of the people who sent him to the Legislature.

There is not one case where Senator Stacy defeated his party or abandoned the cause of the people in his District.

ABSENTISM IS AN ISSUE IN THIS CAMPAIGN

Joe Stacy's chief opponent's record is poor. It shows that he failed to do the job for the people who elected him and that he deserted his people when they needed him most.

The record shows that he was absent over 40% of the time when important issues were being considered by the senate such as Veterans Bills, Education, Agriculture, Social and Highway Bills.

- (a) He deserted his people to vote for Nunn's 5% Sales Tax.
- (b) He voted to increase the automobile license fees from $5.00 to $12.50.
- (c) He voted to tax medicine and drugs.
- (d) In fact he failed to support 40 Educational Bills, 41 Social Service Bills, 10 Highways Bills, and 5 Veterans Bills.

In fact, there is not one major bill that bears his name as chief sponsor that passed the Legislature during the 8 years he served.

And now this man, with this record, is asking people of this district to return him to Frankfort for a repeat performance of failure to represent the people. This is why we are asking you to work and vote for Joe Stacy for State Senator.

VOTE FOR JOE STACY FOR STATE SENATOR

He deserves your vote. He is sober, reliable, a good family man and will represent you in Frankfort with the dignity and sincerity you deserve and have every right to expect.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my son, Elsworth Lacy, who passed away April 25, 1970—

The memory of my darling son to me he meant so much. His face I can not long see. To his grave I sometimes go and flowers I plant with tender care.

Though the sorrow it brings me Only my Lord will ever know. How hard it is for me to bear. Through all the mysteries God hath wrought.

There's always some consoling thought. Tho my son I will always miss. Yet I know he's gone to a better world than this.

CENSUS BUREAU JOB SURVEY SET IN THIS AREA

How many people are supplementing their regular pay check with a second job?

Joseph R. Norwood, Director of the Bureau of the Census regional office in Charlotte, N. C., announced that information on the subject will be collected during the week of May 17 from a number of households in this area.

The questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Results of this monthly survey provide a continuing measure of economic conditions in the country. The March survey found that unemployment, on a seasonally adjusted basis, had edged up to 6.9 percent from 5.8 percent in February, and that this increase was largely among 16 to 24 year-olds, many of whom were entering the labor force for the first time. Total employment remained basically unchanged at 78.5 million.

Facts supplied by individuals participating in this voluntary survey are kept strictly confidential and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Interviewer who will visit households in this area is Mrs. Wilma L. Taubee, Malone, Kentucky 41451.

FARM PROGRAM

LEAFLET TO BE

MAILED BY ASC

The do-it-yourself system of certifying crop and set-aside acres under the new farm programs is outlined in a new U. S. Department of Agriculture leaflet received by the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office.

The leaflet entitled "Certifying Your Set-Aside and Crop Acres" (PA-982), contains a reminder that set-aside, conserving base and crop acres should be in compliance with program provisions when producers come in to certify their final acreage. If program acreage is not in compliance, a farmer can lose all or part of his farm program payment.

Ralph Hamilton, chairman of the Morgan County ASCS Committee, said copies of this new leaflet will be mailed to farmers participating in the ASCS programs. Copies also may be obtained from the County ASCS Office.

NAMES OMITTED

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Hager Arnett, Jr., Derek and Lynn Arnett of Malone were unintentionally omitted from the list published in last week's Courier of guests who attended the birthday of Uncle Doc Adkins.

As Your Democratic Candidate

For

STATE SENATOR

OF THE

27TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

To the Voters of Morgan County—As you are well aware by this time, I have served in the State Senate for eight years, representing the old 28th district. During those eight years, I represented my electorate to the best of my ability. I made campaign promises to the voters of that district and I am proud to state that those promises were kept.

I would like to be able to claim all the credit for the keeping of those promises, but I would be less than honest if I did not share this credit with a favorable state administration who assisted me in carrying out the obligations I had made.

Now I am seeking the Democratic nomination for the office of State Senator in the newly-created 27th District. I have made several general promises to you, the voters of the 27th Senatorial District, which I intend to keep. In addition, each county has different problems which need special attention. I have talked with a number of citizens in Morgan, Wolfe, Elliott and Rowan Counties and find that one of the greatest concerns in a connecting link between the Mountain Parkway and I-64.

I promise you, that if I am elected, I shall support and fight for a major roadway starting in Wolfe County,

Paid Pol. Adv.—Paid for by John R. Turner, Candidate for State Senator

Farmers Eligible

For Preventive

Planting of Corn

Farmers in Morgan County are eligible for preventive planting credit for feed grain (corn) in 1971 if they can not obtain sufficient N-cytoplasm or acceptable blend of seed corn to plant at least 45% of the farms feed grain base.

This provision will enable many producers who are unable to obtain a sufficient supply of blight resistant corn seed to participate in the feed grain set-aside program and receive payment and preserve their feed grain base.

In order to qualify for preventive planting credit, each individual producer will be required to file a written request with this office not later than June 15, 1971. You must state on the request the seed dealers from which you tried to obtain corn seed. Producers having further question should contact the Morgan County ASCS Office.

FESTIVAL . . .

(Continued from page one) antique cars, a buggy driven by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Franklin, and an antique sleigh ridden by Vina Hammack, who was dressed in period costume. Miss Hammack, who owns a large collection of antiques, was responsible for many of the attractive store window displays which drew interest of nearly every passerby.

Planners Surprised At Quantity of Crafts

Much of the credit for the event's success must go to members of Morgan County's Homemakers Clubs whose many beautiful handicrafts were displayed for sale at the festival and who cooperated with organizers in every way in planning the event.

Planners themselves were surprised by the large quantity of items brought by Homemakers and other craftsmen. Last week, planners ordered 1,500 price tags printed to be placed on items to be sold. On the day before the festival—just to be safe—they ordered 1,000 more.

But by 11 a.m. Friday, Morgan County Home Agent Mary Ann Foudray, who helped plan the festival, was frantically phoning the print shop for 1,000 additional tags.

In addition to the crafts booths, one side of the lanes building was reserved for craftsmen to demonstrate their crafts. Demonstrations of basketmaking, broom tying, "bottoming" of stools and chairs, pottery-making, etc. drew large crowds of spectators.

One of the most interesting demonstrations was the carding and spinning of wool on an old fashion spinning wheel by Mrs. Frank Shaver of Pomp.

Among the visitors at the festival were Republican gubernatorial candidate Tom Emberton and Kentucky Secretary of State Ken Harper, both of whom spent several hours mingling and talking with the crowd.

One Injury

In spite of the tremendous traffic congestion and milling crowds, the only injury reported during the festival occurred Thursday evening when a volunteer worker was hurt while helping erect the booths in the lanes building.

Keneth Turner, who operates Turner's Standard Oil Service Station here, sustained a broken arm and other painful injuries when lumber he was unloading from a truck shifted and threw him to the pavement.

Though rain failed to halt the festival, it forced the cancellation of the Dogwood Open Golf Tournament which was scheduled at the Pleasant Valley Country Club. A spokesman for the country club said the tournament will be rescheduled.

In concluding their assessment of the festival, planners agreed it was a success in many ways. But they most often remarked on certain admirable mountain traits which were brought to the fore during the event—the spirit of cooperation and good humor demonstrated under adverse conditions by all who participated. Despite the rain, the mud, the cramped spaces, disrupted plans, and the snarled traffic, everybody had a peek of fun. And plans are even now being made for a similar event—a Sorghum Festival—to be held at West Liberty in the fall. Watch this newspaper for further details.

Combs has proof of performance!

Wendell Ford claims credit for taking the tax off medicine. BUT... THE FACTS ARE

- In 1966 he was a member of the State Senate. He had an opportunity then to introduce a bill and he led a fight to take the tax off medicine. DID HE??? HE DID NOT!
- In 1968 he was Lieutenant Governor and president of the Senate. He was in a position then to lead a fight against the tax on medicine. DID HE??? HE DID NOT! INSTEAD, THE SENATE OVER WHICH HE PRESIDED VOTED TO INCREASE THE TAX ON MEDICINE FROM 3 TO 5 PERCENT.
- IN 1970 a bill was introduced to remove the tax from medicine. Ford takes credit for it now, but HE DIDN'T INTRODUCE IT, AND HE DIDN'T MAKE A SPEECH FOR IT.
- The only new tax Gov. Combs proposes is a production tax on minerals—coal and natural gas, to be paid when the minerals are marketed.

FORD HAS HAD THE CHANCE TO BE A FIGHTER FOR THE PEOPLE... BUT HE'S A PAPER TIGER.
